BATTLE ABBEY PLAN MEETS OPPOSITION

Members of Council Not in Favor of Granting Site on Monroe Park.

Without discussion of any kind the Council Committee on Grounds and Buildings last night laid on the table for future consideration the petition from the Confederate Memorial Association asking that the Battle Abbey be erected in or near the center of Monroe Park.

Though action was deferred, there is serious opposition to the plan on the part of members for the reason that the city is seeking every effort to secure ample park facilities. They contend that Monroe as a park would have its public usefulness practically destroyed by the erection of a building thereon, and some other site will probably have to be selected.

Within the past few weeks members of the Council have received letters from friends of the association urging favorable consideration of the petition, but from others has come the request that Monroe Park be kept intact and that the request be denied. The understanding of the public is that the city is obligated to provide the site, but there is no promise. It is said that the park be designated. Some compromise arrangement will be reached, that movement. It is said that the request will be denied. The Confederate association, however, is unanimously of the opinion that Monroe Park is the most desirable location, all things considered.

Thomas Harris, a colored youth of four years, appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of assaulting Joseph Jordan. Harris said he did not know he had a knife in his hand at the time the assault was committed. The assault occurred on a girl, whom both adults knew.

PEOPLE WE KNOW

They are Richmond People, and What They Say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the town, are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more. In the face of such evidence as this, the public statement of a reputable citizen living right at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mrs. Mary Cutney, 301 South Fifth Street, Richmond, Va., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family with splendid results. My husband suffered severely from kidney troubles. He had two operations performed, but the results were unsatisfactory. He suffered constantly from dull pains across his back, which would change to sharp shooting twinges when he made a sudden movement. His kidneys gave him constant annoyance, and were so frequent in action as to cause him to take several trips during the night. The secretions were highly colored and contained a heavy sediment. After the two operations failed, Doan's Kidney Pills happened to be brought to his attention, and he went to Owens & Minor Drug Co. and procured a box. A short time after using them he realized that they were doing him good. He continued taking them, was cured, and has not had any return of the trouble for over four years."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Nibbun Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Forest Hill Car Plunges Into Big Petersburg Car in Manchester.

ENTIRE FRONT SMASHED IN

In a dangerous collision between trolley cars at Seventh and Perry Streets in Manchester last night at 9 o'clock Motorman C. F. Posneau narrowly escaped with his life and the front of the trolley car at Richmond was pinned between the seat on the front of the car and the vestibule front, which was smashed in upon him, the motorman was for a time in a desperate plight. Glass flew in all directions when the cars struck and the crash was terrific. Fortunately there was but one passenger on the car, and with the exception of Motorman E. J. Bowles, who received a slight cut over the eye, no one else was injured.

Just how the accident occurred is not known. According to the conductor the car was coming down Perry Street very slowly. The big Petersburg car which was due to leave at 9 o'clock was standing on the track. Whether or not the break-chain broke the motorman was unable to say, but when the Forest Hill car struck the rear of the Petersburg car it was crushed in and the car bounded back several feet and jumped the track. The Petersburg car was immediately rescued from the wreckage and was taken into the office, where it was attended by Dr. Uphur, the company's surgeon. He did not regain consciousness until after he was carried to the hospital. Bowles was severely injured, and the face and he received a bad blow on the forehead. It is possible that he may be injured permanently.

Posneau is an unmarried man. He boards at Seventeenth and Everett Streets.

MRS. M'PHAIL DEAD

Passes Away Few Hours After Marriage of Daughter.

A few hours after the marriage of her daughter and only surviving child, Mrs. Clement Carrington McPhail died at 9:30 o'clock last night at her residence, No. 319 Harrison Street. She had been ill a long time.

Mrs. McPhail was the daughter of the late Henry Brook, of Louisville, Ky., and Mrs. Annie Boyd Powell. Her husband, the late C. C. McPhail, of Halifax county, died some years ago. She was a sister of Mrs. John Randolph Tucker of Lexington, Va., and of the late Mrs. Raleigh T. Coleman of this city.

Mrs. McPhail had made her home in Richmond for years. Her health had been failing for some time. A few days ago marasmus developed, but her attending physicians could not operate on account of the weakened condition of their patient. Yesterday double pneumonia set in and she died peacefully.

Mrs. McPhail's only surviving child is her daughter, Mrs. William Robert Johnston, whose marriage took place at her mother's request yesterday, the ceremony, fixed for 11 o'clock, was performed some hours earlier. Mrs. McPhail was a communicant of St. Paul's Church, and the funeral arrangements for her will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Robert Forsythe.

Few women have enjoyed a wider experience of the social life of this city than Mrs. McPhail, and few had a wider circle of friends here and throughout the State.

Colonel Murphy to Answer to Charge of Keeping Bar Open on Election Day.

Colonel John Murphy was called in to the Police Court yesterday morning to answer to the charge of keeping his hotel saloon open Monday night in violation of the election law. The case was continued to November 13th, and Colonel Murphy was recognized for his appearance on that date.

It was admitted that the saloon was open, but it was said to be due to misunderstanding. Colonel Murphy himself was indisposed Monday and kept to his room. Mr. John Powers, who had charge of the bar, was also ill, and the place was left in the care of assistants, who, lacking orders to close, kept the place open. The front door of the saloon was closed and the curtains were drawn, entrance and exit being made through a side door.

SOUTHERN TONNAGE GIVEN IN GROUPS

Products of Mines Led All Others, Grain Being Greater Than All Cotton.

In the annual report of the Southern Railway for the fiscal year ended June 30th last, issued yesterday, the movement of tonnage is classified into five groups. They are: Products of agriculture, products of forests and minerals, products of mines, products of manufactures and miscellaneous.

In the South cotton, considered by many as the leading money crop, hardly figures in the percentage table. The products of the mines leading with 37.72 per cent. The products of agriculture amount to only 12.45. In this group raw cotton and everything connected with its manufacture is about 4 per cent, while grain alone is 4.19 per cent.

The table follows: Agriculture, 12.45; animals, 1.36; mines, 37.72; forests, 18.87; manufactures and miscellaneous, 23.60.

Bituminous coal is the largest individual article shipped, the percentage being 27.37. The smallest record put down is for oranges, lemons, limes and grape fruit, which is .05 per cent. Leaf and stem tobacco amounted to only .01 per cent. The largest of the raw cotton and everything connected with its manufacture is about 4 per cent, while grain alone is 4.19 per cent.

Charles Schraeger and Laura Collins Dismissed on Robbery Charge.

Charles Schraeger and Laura Collins appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning to answer to the charge of robbing W. L. Williamson, of No. 1005 East Broad Street, of $222 last Thursday night, when the three were engaged in some sort of litigation on North Seventh Street.

It was shown that Schraeger had been drinking heavily at the time, and he could not adduce testimony sufficient to warrant the suspicion that Schraeger and the woman had robbed him of the amount stated.

Schraeger was said by his employer to be a man of good character. He is a fur cutter by trade, and has been here only a few weeks, having come from New York. Justice Crutchfield dismissed the case, and all left court.

CHARACTER OF IMPORTANT WORK

Marshall Ward Councilman Elected Chairman of James River Improvement Committee.

POLLARD NOMINATED HIM

Mr. Funsten Declares City Is Being Robbed—Plans for River Work.

Councilman Garber, of Marshall Ward, was elected chairman of the James River Improvement Committee at its meeting last night. Before Temporary Chairman Pollard made his announcement that nominations were in order, Councilman Pollard got the floor and presented Mr. Garber's name. He was unanimously elected.

In view of the stormy scene in the common Council the night before over the election of the new Marshall Ward Councilman, the nomination of Mr. Garber by Mr. Pollard was more than ordinarily significant. Mr. Garber and his associates wanted Mr. J. W. Gentry elected. Mr. Pollard, however, in spite of the fact that the Marshall delegation was solid for Gentry, offered Mr. Garber as a candidate. The debate being sharp and biting, Mr. Garber taking one end and Mr. Pollard the other. But the matter was finally healed last night when Mr. Pollard bent the others who wanted to nominate somebody else.

Mr. Funsten declared the city is being robbed—plans for river work.

The committee had to elect a sub-chairman, and Mr. Donahoe nominated Mr. Nelsen, a new member of the Board of Public Works. Mr. Nelsen objected. He said he wanted it clearly understood that he did not oppose Mr. Garber, but that he was not a new man in municipal life, and was therefore not familiar with the important work coming before the committee. Mr. Nelsen declined the honor. Mr. Morris nominated Mr. Julius A. Hobson, but as Mr. Hobson was from the same ward as Councilman Garber, he was not eligible. Mr. Morris then nominated Alderman Donahoe.

The importance of securing larger appropriations from Congress for the James River was ably presented by Mr. J. C. Freeman, chairman of the committee from the Chamber of Commerce. He took occasion to say that the James River Improvement Commission, created by the National Rivers and Harbors Congress to be held in Washington early in December, and urged united action in an effort to secure the necessary appropriations for the river.

Mr. Freeman said that few people here were aware of the fact that the particular receipts were greater than the receipts at Norfolk and Newport News combined.

"These little matters upon which we pass night after night," he said, "are insignificant compared with the greater work of the James River, and a more valuable asset to the commerce of Richmond. We could secure wharfage facilities here which would equal and surpass those of Baltimore, and we must realize that this river question is the biggest question before the people of Richmond."

To Invite Mr. Burton.

Mr. Freeman thought that Chairman Burton, of the National Rivers and Harbors Commission, should be invited here, and he related a conversation he had had with Mr. Burton, who declared that the James River was the most liberal help from the national government.

Mr. Morris agreed with Mr. Freeman about the need of going after more money. He suggested that the committee should have a letter from Mr. Burton in charge be increased by the addition of two members. The motion was carried. Mr. Burton is chairman of the subcommittee.

There was a long discussion on the question of submitting from the Fulton Brick Company, the basin into which sand from the river is pumped. Mr. Funsten severely criticized the report of the committee, and he believed that the expense was too great, declaring, in fact, that it was a waste of money. Mr. Morris moved to refer the matter to a subcommittee, which will report next Monday night.

The resolutions were adopted thanking former Chairman W. W. Morton for his excellent work and expressing sincere regret that he had resigned.

Dr. Monteiro was engaged as his counsel by Mr. A. L. Williams, who was employed to defend him in the former case.

Electrolysis Question the One Live Wire in City Council Now.

EXHIBIT A ALL TO THE BAD

Water-Pipe Full of Holes Sent to Chamber to Show Extent of Damage.

Aldermen who are members of the joint committee on water and electricity waited in the chamber until 11 o'clock Monday night for the common Council to take up the two reports, but they may come again. Superintendent Bolling was also present to watch the effect of the battle, and for the time President Turpin hung around to see if one faction would hurt the other as seriously as the return current damages the water pipes. But they were disappointed. About midnight Mr. Ferguson picked up his hat and went to bed, which was the most pleasure-giving motion of the session.

They never work too hard, however, for Ben T. August, the clerk of Council, who hasn't missed a session, by the way, in about thirty years. Clearing a heavy calendar is balm to his soul.

Exhibit A, in this electrolysis fight, was reaching on Tuesday's chair. It was a chunk of iron pipe, six feet long, into which the electric current had cut queer holes. Unless the double overhead system is installed, Superintendent Bolling said, the return current will continue to damage the water pipes. The question to decide, therefore, is a tax on the street car company or overhauling the destruction of the pipes.

Morgan T. Mills, who will "whoop 'em" up with a minor report, wearing a pipe and a white vest, and simply waiting for Clerk August to touch the electrolysis wire. Aldermen Dabney, Rennolds, Moncre, Mann and others sat on the side lines and laughed at the battle of the iron pipe, which was a mere preliminary of the big bout of the evening. David Meade White, of the minority, declined to say that faction which wants the double overhead system, sat quietly by his name, musing that if he could not get the majority in line he would at least keep the majority from swarming him. And so the evening rocked along with plenty of excitement, and so much noise at times that President Peters threatened to call in the police.

Expect Some Red Hot Talk.

The minority report may be rather tame, but the flow of language which will follow may warm the building and make it necessary to turn off the steam. The filibustering tactics which kept the secret session of the joint committee on edge for nearly five hours may be resorted to again, and for lunch.

As it happens they may send out questions, however, the matter is one of grave importance to the city, and the experts apparently are of one mind and they want it settled in a way which will keep the loose current from making its dinner on the pipes.

Mayor and Council.

Unless some wise head succeeds in checking the talk, which is running at extremes, the differences between Mayor McCarthy and the Finance Committee will crop out again at the meeting of Wednesday to-morrow night. Chairman E. D. Richardson, of the investigating committee, who has said openly that it was a waste of time to consider the charges and counter-charges, will produce the opinion of Mr. Charles V. Meredith, and when it is presented some orator may perform. Members who voted to bring this in have said that they merely follow the majority, although the Finance Committee, who they seem to admit that the time of Council is too valuable to thresh out the straw again.

Of the investigators said yesterday that Mr. Meredith held that inasmuch as the committee in making up the budget for 1907 had followed a precedent of twenty-five years' standing, the action was altogether proper. The one charge made by Mayor McCarthy was that the charter had not been complied with, and the report sustains that contention.

The general opinion in Council is that the thing has been ridiculous from its inception, and they are in favor of letting it drop without further discussion. They say, at least, that nothing can be accomplished by more talk.

Convocation Elects Officers.

The Richmond Convocation of the Episcopal Church, including this city and several surrounding counties, held its fall meeting at the Episcopal Church at St. Albans last night, with an attendance of twelve ministers. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Dean, the Rev. W. B. Lee, of Gloucester; Secretary, the Rev. John Moncre, of Richmond; Treasurer, the Rev. E. E. Osgood, of Brook Hill.

NEPHEW OF CHAS. DICKENS

DIES SUDDENLY IN NORFOLK

W. W. Barrow, of Richmond, Succumbs to Apoplexy While Seated at Desk in Office—Lived Here Many Years and Was Widely Known.

News was received here last night of the sudden death in Norfolk of Mr. W. W. Barrow, of Richmond, widely known in this section of the State. Mr. Barrow, who was an expert accountant and member of the Virginia Club, died of apoplexy while at his desk in the office of the Seaboard Electric Company.

In this city, where he had lived from time to time for the past several years, Mr. Barrow was very well known. He was English by birth, and came to this country in 1870. His father was a man of some note, being one of the few persons to whom was accorded the freedom of the city of London, which was given him for service he had performed for the British government. Mr. Barrow was a nephew of the famous novelist, Charles Dickens, whose middle name was Barrow, dropped by him to shorten the length of his name.

Early Life Spent Abroad.

Mr. Barrow was about forty-five years of age. Most of his early life was spent on the continent, at the courts of Brussels and Vienna, where he was employed as an expert accountant. He was also an expert accountant, and was employed by John L. Williams & Sons, and also by Mr. John Skelton Williams as an expert auditor. He afterward went into business with Mr. C. G. Taylor, Jr., followed on "the association" as a social factor in the community. Mr. Barrow and Mr. Bahke outlined various features of association work.

Central W. C. T. U. Meeting.

A special meeting of the Central Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Broad Street Methodist Church. Plans for the coming convention will be discussed.

Valley League Meets.

The quarterly meeting of the Upper James River Valley League will be held at the assembly hall of the Chamber of Commerce at 11 o'clock this morning.

Wife in Hospital.

Mr. Barrow was married to a Virginia woman, who is said now to be in a New York hospital undergoing an operation. He had two children, both married, surviving him, but whether there are any other relatives here or in England, could not be learned. It is said that the wife was a member of the Virginia Club, of Norfolk, where he was, perhaps, better known than in this city. He was a man of fine, retiring disposition, and information as to his family connections and his early life could be gleaned only from the rarest of intimates. He was known for his untiring energy.

WIFE DESERTION MORE COMMON NOW

Dr. Buchanan Thinks Radical Changes in the Law Will Cure Evil.

Cases of wife desertion and non-support in this city have become so frequent and flagrant that in the opinion of Dr. Buchanan, of the Associated Charities and others under whose observation and care most of the cases of wife desertion are brought, an adequate, but in most cases it is almost impossible to enforce them, on account of the fact that the wife must leave her husband, and he must support her. The present laws regarding these offenses, they think are inadequate, but in most cases it is almost impossible to enforce them, on account of the fact that the wife must leave her husband, and he must support her.
